Why refresh the uniform?

Turning our brand into something people wear.

01

Consistent presence

When the team shows up at an event, client meeting, or office — the uniform tells one story. No accidental off-brand moments.

02

Earned, not loud

Most days, one small mark. On stage or at trade shows, the big-back logo does the work. Every concept dials in how loud the brand should be.

03

Built to last

Embroidery-first approach, combed cotton, proper GSM. Built for 50+ washes — because a fading logo is a bad brand moment.

At a glance

Four concepts. Two garments. Four colors. Sixty-four finished mockups.

Decoration

Four methods. Matched to the element, not the cheapest option.

01 Embroidery

Used for: Chest & back logos

Polyester thread, stitch density 4.0–4.4 pt, medium cut-away stabilizer. Max 9,000 stitches chest / 22,000 back.

02 Screen print

Used for: Text, taglines, wordmark

Plastisol + soft-hand additive. Mesh 305 for fine type, 156 for solid blocks. Cure 160°C / 90 s.

03 Sublimation

Used for: Gradient stripe (polo only)

Polyester-blend only. Full-color gradient reproduction, no cracking, matches Pantone references in §2 of spec.

04 Heat-transfer

Used for: Inner-neck tagline

45 µm matte stretch film. 160°C / 15 s / medium pressure. Peel hot. Used only for the inner-neck tag.

Recommendation

Pick two. Wear both. Rotate by occasion.

EVERYDAY

Classic — Polo — Deep Black

The default uniform. Subtle, professional, works anywhere. Chest logo does the identity work; the rest disappears into the cut.

STATEMENT

Gradient — Tee — Deep Black

For launches, events, and brand moments. The 3-color shoulder stripe is unmistakably Rawinnipa and photographs brilliantly on stage.
